

Fort Worth Star-Telegram

Posted on Tue, May. 18, 2004

Marking History

The Rev. Jack Poe and Louise Oldham unveil a historical marker Monday afternoon at the entrance of Arlington Baptist College. The marker recognizes the location's history as a notorious casino and brothel called Top O' the Hill Terrace and its transformation into the college. Oldham is the widow of Earl K. Oldham, who was responsible for getting the college located there.